MANILA DECLARED "OPEN" AS JAPS PRESS ON

Military Leaders Leave City; Quezon Removes His Office

Army, Meanwhile Declares Fighting Is "Going Well" On All Fronts; American and Filipino Forces Outnumbered

(By Associated Press)
MANILA, Dec. 26.—(2:10 P. M., 12:10 A. M., EST)—Manila was officially proclaimed an open city today to spare its residents further bombardment and Japanese raiders which kept the capital under alarm most of the morning were striking apparently at military bases nearby.
The Philippine and United States troops which General Douglas MacArthur welded into a steadily stiffening defense force met the onslaught of Japanese invasion troops 110 miles northwest and 55 to 75 miles southeast of Manila in a fight for possession of the capital and control of Luzon.
The army reported an artillery battle on the front north of the capital and increased Japanese pressure in the supporting onset from the south.
Despite the strength of the Japanese attacks the army declared the fighting was "going well" in all sectors and Francis B. Sayre, United States high commissioner, pledged that "we will fight to the last man."

An hour after General Douglas MacArthur, commander of the Far Eastern army of the United States, officially proclaimed Manila an open city to spare the metropolitan area from the possible ravages of attacks either in the air or on the ground, the air raid sirens screamed.

However, no enemy planes appeared over the city proper and water front observers said the Japanese might be concentrating against the Corregidor island fortress at the entrance to Manila bay.
This belief was based on the fact that waves of Japanese planes, after circling over the city, flew to the west above Manila bay. One wave dropped bombs in the direction of Nichols air port, on the outskirts of Manila.
Meanwhile, the army declared that fighting was "going well" on all fronts.

General MacArthur in a proclamation dated two days ago—Dec. 24—said Manila was declared an open city "without the characteristics of a military objective."

Officials withdrew the proclamation said that "in order that no excuse may be given for a possible mistake, the American high commissioner, the commonwealth government and all combatant military installations will be withdrawn from its environs as rapidly as possible."

As soon as the order was announced, Commissioner Sayre said he was transferring his office outside Manila.
Sayre declared that "we know our fight is America's fight, America's help is sure. There can be no

YOUTH HIT AS HE STARTS TO CROSS STREET

Richard Quinn, 7, Buckeye Ave., Succumbs On Christmas Morning

WOMAN STRUCK AS SHE LEAVES CHURCH

Mullins Attorney Criticized Hurt As Car Hits Utility Pole

Deaths of a Salem boy and a Wellsville woman over Christmas boosted the Columbiana county 1941 traffic toll to 28 as other holiday traffic accidents in the district brought injuries to at least 12 persons.

Approximately 30 persons met death in traffic mishaps throughout the state at Christmas time. Many others were injured.

The local victims were: Richard Quinn, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Quinn of 1064 Buckeye ave., struck by a car on N. Ellsworth ave. near Tenth st.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crea, 79, of Wellsville, struck by an automobile in Wellsville while returning from a church service.

Coroner Arnold Devon withheld this decision in both cases.

Seriously injured:

Lawyer Seriously Hurt
Atty John Howard Pitts, 33, of Racoon road, R. D. 2, Canfield, in Salem City hospital with head and other injuries suffered when his automobile struck utility pole and tree on Route 62, a half mile north of Salem. Condition described as critical.

Herbert L. Hyden, 21, of 626 Deuber ave., SW, Canton, in Salem City hospital, critical condition, skull fracture received when his car left road on Route 45, three miles north of Salem and overturned.

Police said that the Quinn boy was fatally injured when he darted into the path of a machine traveling north on N. Ellsworth ave., driven by Kenneth Paul McDonough of R. D. 1, Canfield, at 3:50 p. m. Wednesday. He was taken to the Central Clinic where he died at 4:15 Christmas morning as the result of a skull fracture.

McDonough told police that the lad ran from in front of a parked car into the path of his machine. A group was on the sidewalk at the time.

The victim was born in Salem June 23, 1924, and was a member of St. Paul's Catholic church.

Surviving are the parents, three sisters, Mary, Rose Marie and Shirley Ann, and two brothers, Dominic and Jerry at home.

Rites will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday at the church in charge of St. Paul.

POLICE WORKING WITHOUT CRUISER

Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer today bemoaned the loss of the police department's lone cruiser and pointed out the dangers of having police on duty with no means of transportation in the event of an emergency.

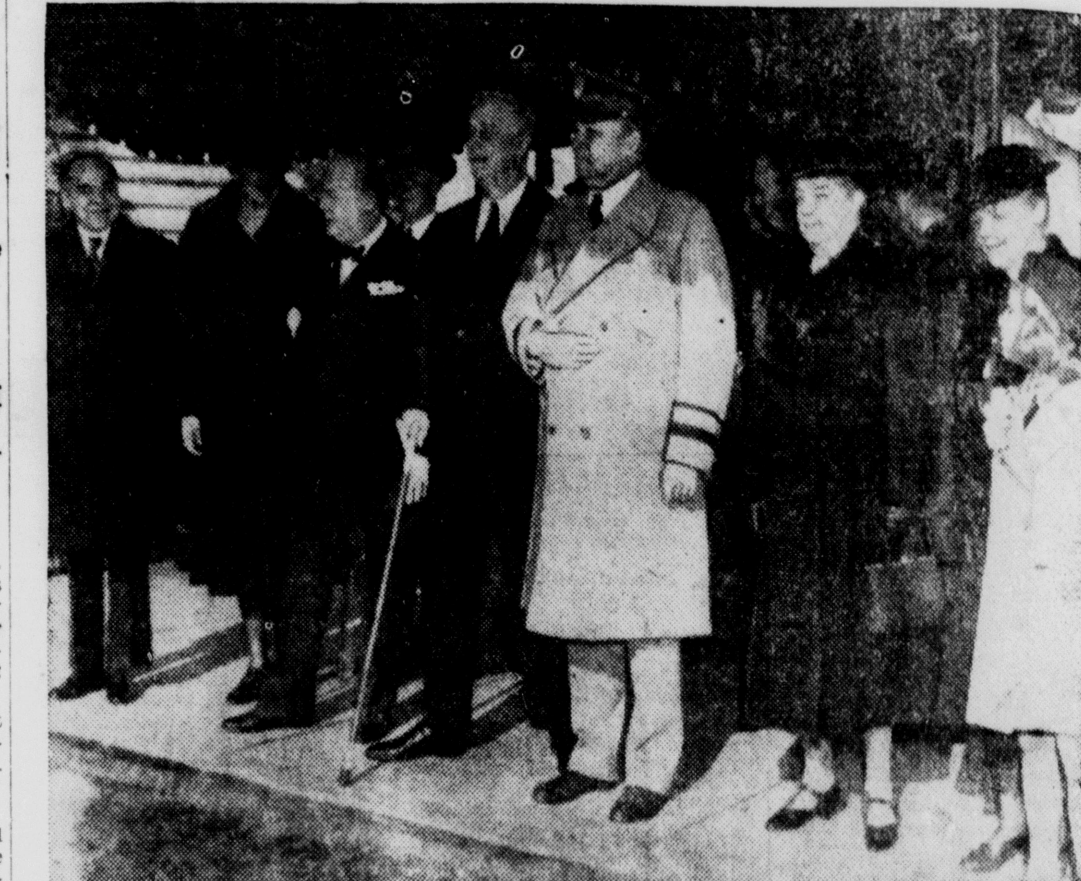

The cruiser, out of commission because repairs are needed, has been in the city hall garage at the rear of the police station for two weeks now. "The car just won't run," the chief commented, "and we've already run up a large repair bill which isn't paid."

Early Christmas morning the police were forced to borrow a private automobile to aid investigations in connection with local defense work, Chief Stoffer pointed out.

Today the chief drove his own car to Alliance to bring back a youth who was caught there for a crime committed here.
City council several weeks ago authorized the board of control to advertise for bids on a new cruiser but failed to appropriate funds to take care of any purchase.

Bomber Campaign Tops $100,000 Mark

Salem's "Bonds for a Bomber" drive jumped to a new peak of $106,234, according to defense stamp and bond sales Wednesday, the Junior Chamber of Commerce reported today.

Wednesday's receipts were approximately $12,000.

EMPIRE SOLDIERS MOP UP IN LIBYA

Report 13,000 German and Italian Prisoners Taken to Rear

(By Associated Press)
CAIRO, Dec. 26.—The Middle East command reported today that with more than 13,000 Axis prisoners already removed to the rear, British forces were taking a heavy toll of German troops attempting to retreat in the area around Agadabia, 60 miles south of Bengasi.

Near Bengasi itself, the second city of Italy's North African empire, and around Barce, said the communiqué, only "isolated bodies in various stages of disorganization" still were offering resistance. The "bulk of the retreating enemy," it added, was involved in "confused fighting" near Agadabia.

Besides the 13,000 Germans and Italians who have been removed to hospitals or prison camps, the communiqué said, a large number still are to be transported from the forward areas of a British advance which has driven more than 360 miles westward into Libya.

In the fighting north of Agadabia, the Middle East command said, six Axis tanks were put out of commission.

TRAPPED BY FIRE, MAN FALLS 32 FEET

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 26.—Trapped during an apartment fire, Clifford Pentland, 45, of Alliance, O., hung from a third-floor window ledge for half an hour before falling 32 feet to a concrete courtyard.

Attached to a hospital to which he was rushed said today his injuries were critical.
Pentland, his brother, Joseph, also of Alliance, were visiting their sisters, Margaret and Alice Pentland. The others escaped with 10 families before flames gutted the Pentland apartment in the east end building last night. Firemen said the blaze apparently started in a studio couch.

CURTIN HINTS NEW OFFENSE

New Allied Movement Under Way, Says Australian Prime Minister

(By Associated Press)
A hint of momentous counter-measures by Britain, the United States and Australia to combat Japan's offensive advantage was dropped by Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia today.

Curtin said he could not disclose the precise form of the new allied movement, already launched, but declared he was greatly encouraged by growing reinforcements.

Curtin said that Britain, the United States and Australia had launched an effort to reverse Japan's present offensive advantage.
Speaking only in general terms, Curtin said he could not state the precise form of the movement but he added that he was greatly encouraged by growing reinforcements for the Allies.

"The decisions of the Far Eastern war council," he declared, "demand action and the support which is being given by Australia, the United States, China, Russia, The Netherlands, Great Britain and their Allies. We are mobilizing the Allies against the Axis."

He said Australia never was "satisfied with the air position in the Pacific," but added that "in the past 18 days we have taken stock and, although the conclusion is not glowing with optimism, there is sober confidence. The meeting in Washington (presumably of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill) shows the democracies are fully alive to the need for cohesive action in directing operations in the Pacific."

The Allies' ability to meet the onslaught, Curtin declared, had been reduced by the inevitable lapse of time between the drafting and execution of a plan covering Britain, the United States, Australia, The Netherlands and China.

Draws Fine of $100

Frank Daanar, 53, of R. D. 3, Salem, arrested by state highway patrolmen on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated, drew a fine of $100 and costs at hearing yesterday before Mayor Norman Phillips.

He was arrested yesterday on Route 9, south of here.
Robert Sokerka, 21, of West Point, charged by the patrol with failure to have a driver's license, was fined $10 and costs by the mayor.
Joseph Siazack, 30, also of West Point, charged with permitting an unlicensed operator to drive a car, was fined $10 and costs.

Distressing, Indeed!

CANTON, Dec. 26.—"It probably is distressing to be held in your jail, but you don't need to advertise it," a voice informed Sheriff Richard France over the telephone. "The flag outside the jail is upside down, and that's a signal of distress."
A "trusty" whose duty it was to raise and lower the flag blamed the incident on the heavy fog.

JAPANESE LAUNCH BIG U-BOAT DRIVE

Try to Accomplish What Germans Failed In 1918 Campaign

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The raiding Japanese submarines in the Pacific are out to accomplish what German U-boats failed to off the Atlantic coast in 1918.

In both campaigns the two main objectives are the same—diversion of naval units from combat duty with the fleet for strictly defensive patrol operations in home waters, and the disruption of American shipping.

Although the Japanese are not considered by naval men to be in the same class with the grimly efficient U-boat veterans of World war I and although their submarines must operate over vastly greater distances, they were conceded two advantages the Germans lacked.

Have Larger Fleet
Japan is believed to have a much larger fleet of long range submarines, with about 40 capable of operating off the Pacific coast and her raiders are not menaced close to their home bases by the deadly type of anti-submarine warfare which the Allied navies were able to wage in the North sea during 1917-1918.

The current renewal of submarine warfare in American waters is expected to follow the general pattern.

Churchill Hails Production Power of U.S. And Britain

In the End, Says British Prime Minister As He Addresses Congress, Axis Will Get Lesson It Won't Forget Once Allies Get Under Way

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told congress today the Allies would be ready "to take the initiative on an ample scale" by 1943 and in the end give the Axis powers a lesson the world "will never forget."
Standing in the center of the green-carpeted senate rostrum, the stocky Briton asked his intently-listening audience these questions about the Germans, Japanese and Italians:
"What kind of people do they think we are?"
"Do they not realize that we shall never cease to persevere against them until we have taught them a lesson which they and the world will never forget?"

This brought a roar of applause from the packed-and-jammed senate chamber, where house members were sandwiched in between the regular senate desks. Members of the supreme court, the cabinet and the diplomatic corps were also in his audience.

United States Placed at Disadvantage

The prime minister spoke also of the "masses awaiting the hour of liberation when they, too, will be able to play their part and strike their blows like men."

The United States-British production, within a year or 18 months, Churchill said, would result in war power output beyond "anything ever seen in the Axis states."

The youth of Germany, Japan and Italy had been taught, the Britisher said, that aggressive warfare was the duty of the citizen and should begin as soon as the weapons were available.

"They have plotted and planned for war," he charged.
Churchill said it was natural that the planning and plotting by the Axis powers had placed the United States at a disadvantage. But saying that we should be thankful that we had time to prepare for war, he added.

"If Germany had tried to invade Britain in June, 1940, and Japan had declared war on the United States the same day, no one can say what disaster might have come."

Churchill said that within 18 months production in the United States "will produce results in war power beyond anything that has been seen" and that by "the end of 1942 we will be quite definitely in a better position than we are now."

By 1943, he said, production "will enable us to assume the initiative on an ample scale." Applause halted his remarks.

The British leader said he and President Roosevelt did not hesitate to forecast a "long and hard war" because "our people would rather know the truth."

With the spirit which has developed he said it did not matter if it was 1942, 43, or 44. The task ahead, he said, is "not beyond our strength and endurance as long as we have faith in our own cause."

Applaud Mention of Russian Victories

"Mighty strokes of war already have been dealt against the enemy," he continued and with mention of Russian victories at length. Uaxim Litvinoff, the Russian ambassador, sat unmoving.

For the first time since the war began, Churchill declared, the British had been able to fight the Axis forces with equal weapons in Africa.

Throughout Washington's downtown section, crowds clustered around business places to hear the broadcast of the speech. Restaurant keepers likewise turned up their radios.

Churchill was glad, he went on, to be able to stand before congress and say, shortly after American entry into the war, that the British were able to prove that, with equal weapons, they could "beat the life out of the savage Huns."

Hardly pausing for the applause that came from his listeners, Churchill went on to say that the same kind of medicine had to be given the Axis forces wherever they might be encountered.

There were "glad tidings from the blue waters of the Atlantic, too," he said with a smile.
"The supply lifeline from the United States across the ocean to Britain—far from being decimated by an enemy attack—was 'incomparably stronger' than ever before and was growing even stronger."

He has found in this country, he said, "an inflexible purpose" which indicated to him that the nation had a "well-grounded confidence in the final outcome" of the war.

SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT

There is this thing about the conversations between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill—no one is at a loss to know what they can find to talk about when they meet. Not only do they speak the same language and think the same thoughts, but they are striving toward the same goal.

They bear no resemblance as negotiators to Hitler and Mussolini, who have nothing in common, except an overworked persecution mania and a thirst for conquest. Moreover, they meet as equals, not as master and puppet. The Germans want the British to think the United States is trying to engulf them, and the Japanese want Americans to think Great Britain is trying to engulf them—but neither is true. The United States and Great Britain are equals in the anti-Axis fight; each is contributing according to its ability. They both think of the Chinese and Russians as equals in the same fight, furthermore. There is room in the anti-Axis bloc for any nation, however large or small, that has something to add to the fight.

The problem with which Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt are dealing is in the public domain, so to speak. They are not furthering their personal ambitions but the ideals of their nations. There is no question in the minds of their countrymen about principles, because the principles already are established. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill have nothing to discuss but strategy—not strategy to bring about conquest, but strategy to balk the ambitions of would-be conquerors. Whatever they may decide will be acceptable because it will be decided on a basis of goodwill. Sometimes it seems that there lies the real issue of the war—whether or not goodwill is ever to be reestablished as a basis of international negotiation.

GOOD ENOUGH FOR UNCLE SAM

Every household in the United States has been obliged to do some belt-tightening in 1941 and expects to do a lot more next year. Even in the thousands of homes which have had the benefit of extra income, it has been evident that much of it was being absorbed by higher prices and taxes.

The private formula for making ends meet is to trim out the non-essentials first, then the borderline essentials and finally some of the essentials. This is at the bottom of all demands for economy in government; taxpayers believe that what is good enough for them is good enough for the government.

Specifically, it is at the bottom of demands for curtailment of non-defense spending by the federal government. This is not just a matter of making the federal government spend less where it can get along with less, but a matter of keeping the government from actually increasing non-defense items.

There was only scant contact with financial reality under the original New Deal thesis of spending, and there threatens to be even less under the combination of that thesis and the defense spending thesis. The latter cannot be assailed. The former can—and will be by every taxpayer who is learning how to get along on less so there will be more for defense needs.

SUSPEND YEAR-END REVIEWS

Preparation of year-end reviews this year will be considerably more of a job than it customarily is. Things are unsettled. In view of the probability that no one will have time to read them, perhaps they'd better be suspended.

There have been few occasions when the continuity of events in the past seemed to bear less relationship to the future than right now. What has happened in the preceding 12 months apparently is gone forever. To all intents and purposes, the modern history of the United States began the first Sunday in December when the Japs launched their surprise attack on Hawaii.

If by the end of 1942 the year-end reviewers can write that the United States managed to unlock its potentialities of production with the effect of furnishing all the material needed by men anxious to destroy Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito; if by the end of 1942 the job of restoring a world in which men can cease living in caves is well under way—then there will be something worth reporting.

Merely as a gesture of modesty the United States should suspend the custom of year-end reviews until it has finished the only job important enough to deserve that much attention.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

The war and navy departments will share the lesson of Pearl Harbor with another department, whose fault was at least equally great—the state department. Before the record is officially closed, something should be read into it about the way the United States was out-manuevered across the table. It almost confirms the general impression that the United States always loses its shirt when it gets into a diplomatic skirmish.

On second thought, many Americans are inclined to be more concerned about the ineptness of their state department than their war and navy departments. If the latter had known what the former should have known—that there was something fishy about Nomura and Kurusu—they wouldn't have been proceeding on the assumption that peace still was possible. It will be surprising if in historic judgment the U. S. state department doesn't get a Grade A black eye for its handling of Japanese relations, ending in a climax of treachery that would have staggered the imagination of the most deceitful of European diplomats. Uncle Sam the Naive was fooled again.

Even as the clouds of war hang low over us, at the happy Christmas season, we can all take courage from the words found in I Corinthians 16-13: Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, December 26

HOSPITALITY, sociability and good fellowship continue to dominate all activities, both social and business. Whatever of the latter may gain attention will progress and bring future generous returns under these kindly impulses and genial customs. Comradeship and sentimental intent hold sway, perhaps to the height of courtship, engagements and marriage festivities.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a pleasant, happy and progressive year, practical objectives being furthered by the social, hospitable and friendly spirit that abounds in both business and private life. Tendencies to indulge in the sentimental and romantic graces are likely to culminate in happy courtships or marriage celebrations. In all it would be well to maintain a sense of obligation and duty.

A child born on this day will be well-endowed with talents and efficiency in creative lines, attaining place and popularity in art, law or other professional pursuit, and having a happy and successful career.

For Saturday, December 27

JUDGING by certain astral auguries there may be a surprising push to neglected affairs, by a most decisive and telling stroke of genius or well-organized initiative. The impulses will be under high gear for attacking difficult situations with precision and energy bringing enduring returns and fair fortune. But there is danger of being carried to excess or rash moves.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of an unlooked for opportunity for progress, probably in a new and exciting direction which may lead to sound and enduring gain if properly managed. A tendency to impetuous, reckless and imprudent action may negative very practical ingenious and progressive enterprise. Count the cost before applying high-powered endeavors.

A child born on this day will have much initiative, prising and creative in exceptional ways, but is likely to permit its impulses to run away with it to its detriment.

As a baseball magnate, Jim Farley will enjoy not having to take on a young pitcher at big money because his uncle controls the ward.

FOR VICTORY!

"CLEAN OUT MEDICINE CHEST"

That's Doctor's Christmas Carol For Today

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
"Merry Christmas!" observed my old friend, Dr. Adrian Gibbs glumly and, for him, in a rather defensive tone of voice.
"No! I did not read Dickens's Christmas Carol last night. This is one Christmas in my life when

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

I did not feel like blessing every one. I decided that as we have gone through the year celebrating National Doughnut Week, and National Apple Week, and National Pine Week, and National Pineapple Week and a few others, this Christmas would be National Clean Out-the-Medicine-Chest-Day.

I read the article by your friend, Dr. Peete, on the Home Medicine Cabinet last night and I must say he produced the only sensible article on the subject I ever encountered.

"But it occurred to me that instead of thinking about putting things into medicine cabinet, it would be a good thing to take some of the things out of the medicine closet. Mine won't hold any more, so I did a little house cleaning."

House Cleaning
"I found a charming bottle of tincture of iodine of Stiegel glass that dated back to World War I. The rubber cork was badly rotted and the little glass rod had been broken off and the iodine itself had a lot of mellow dress in it. I sacrificed it with regret. Some day that bottle will be rescued and find a place in Ed Hashinger's collection."

"There was a large jar labeled plainly and chastely, 'Dr. Dennis. Apply locally. Oct. 18, 1924.' It contained some kind of ointment. I tried to puzzle out what was in it; it smelled like white blubber from an animal with vitamin deficiency. But anyway it must have done its work. Dennis is a good doctor who makes cure. No one in the house had any local on which to apply it, so it went the way of the iodine."

"Then there was a pasteboard box with a single solitary enormous capsule filled with some kind of purple powder. It said on the box 'Take one every hour until relieved.' What dark incident in my past did that represent? I have forgotten, but I'm glad to think relief arrived just before they had to fire the last gun."

Refilling Medicine Cabinet
"Now I have to fill that medicine cabinet all up again. I am going to start with a new iodine bottle and some sterile gauze and bandages and adhesive. I am convinced that I must prepare for carnage."

"As to the cathartics so universally recommended, I dunno. Constipation isn't an emergency that pounces upon you out of a clear sky. There is always time to go to the drug store. Maybe a small bottle of paregoric would be more sensible anyway."

"I am also very dubious about the sleeping powders. I don't think there is as much harm in them as some doctors do, but if you tempt, you are likely to be like my brother-in-law who keeps hiding them for himself and climbing up in chairs at night inside dark closets with the consequence that he has fallen off the chair so often he has broken nearly every small bone in his body."

"There is one sort of Christmas thought in looking over these old remedies. Nature is very kind in erasing the memory of troubles from our minds and leaving only the happy ones."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
H. C. F. — "All kidding aside, what causes spots before the eyes?"

Answer: All kidding aside, they are never serious, no matter what causes them.

DON'T FORGET MY PENNY CHANGE—

Boy, let me give you a little fatherly advice. Pennies are just as important as dollars... when it comes to buying electricity. Count up all the things that you use electricity for at your house, and compare them with the bill you pay for electric service. You'll be amazed to find what a penny's worth of electricity will do.

Bargain Day for Electricity

While prices of some things have gone up, it is not true of electricity. Cheap electricity is still your best bargain. Do you know, for example, that a penny's worth of electricity will light a 100 watt bulb for two hours?

Emerald Embassy

by FRANCIS GERARD

SYNOPSIS
Tragedy stalks into the little village of Weyland, England, when a young man, a respected citizen, is murdered. The local police cannot solve the murder, so Yves Blaydes-Steele enlists the aid of Sir John Meredith, former Scotland Yard ace, when the latter accepts a mission for Yves' brother, Lord George Lanthesier. For generations it has been the custom for the current Lord Lanthesier to act as representative of the crown in presenting the Dwan Emerald of the Island of Sulungu, a priceless emerald as a token of good will between the two sovereigns dating since 1835, when the late Lord Lanthesier deposed the emerald Dwan of the island and placed the latter's cousin on the throne. In recent years, Bona Thalan, the present ruler, has come to England to receive the gift, but has assumed even greater importance, for Japan, which is strategically located for a maritime base. There are now jewels in the chain. Yves substitutes for his ill brother and goes to receive the necklace from the Dwan to have the new emerald added. Yves and Sir John receive a cool reception from the Sultan, who obviously distrusts them. They bring the necklace to London and are stunned to learn it is an imitation. Sir John cautions Monarchet, the jeweler, and Yves to say nothing of their discovery. Then, in the presence of Monarchet and two witnesses, Sir John forces the jeweler to name to a receipt for the genuine necklace. Then he and Yves examine the necklace. Later, convinced of Yves and Sir John's sincerity, Bona Thalan admits he gave them the imitation necklace because he had been warned they were impostors and turned the genuine jewels over to thieves. He suspects the Countess Anne de Vassignac, Parisian social leader and a descendant of the deposed Dwan of Sulungu, who aspires to the throne. At the time Yves and Sir John are talking with the Dwan, Philip Horton, ex-officer of His Majesty's Engineers, calls on the countess, with whom he is infatuated. He had been cashiered from the army because of money trouble. . . . money he had spent on Anne.

CHAPTER ELEVEN
"I've loved you all these months, Anne, and... despite..." The man's face looked haggard and tired. He went on with difficulty. "Despite your reputation, I've respected you."
"That's true enough, Philip. But you're a terrible bore at times."
"I suppose I am," he nodded. "But I've loved you. Many have. The countess snuggled her head down against the white pique of the cushion. Her actions were quite deliberate.
Philip Horton looked at her as though he were seeing her for the first time. "I wonder," he said speaking very slowly, "I wonder when someone will kill you, Anne."
"I wonder," she echoed, stretching lazily like a cat.
At that moment her husband walked into the room. Raoul de Vassignac at this time was about twenty-six, a platinum blond with over-long, beautifully waved hair. His exquisite hands were charmingly ringed. His dressing-gown was of white satin with a scarlet girdle of silk cord. His small feet were sandalled, the heels being unusually high. Altogether he was very exquisite. He was quite small with a pair of limpid blue eyes, which looked the bluer for the delicate shading of the long, black, curling lashes.
Philip Horton glanced at him with an expression of contempt.
"Anne-Marie," began Raoul in his sweet, ready voice. "I have reached an impasse in my new poem."
"Imbecile!" exploded Anne de Vassignac in French. "What do I care for your stupid verses!"
Quite downcast, Comte Raoul de Vassignac, lineal descendant of a great soldier who had defied all the power of Richelieu, almost ran from the room.
"He's a worm, isn't he, Philip?" she asked in English.
Horton sighed. He nodded. "Yes," he said. "A worm all right."
"And now then, Philip, can tell me what you have done today. Is it all stilted?"
"The Sulungu necklace is yours," said the man slowly, "whenever you wish to take it."
"And the hiding place has been assured?"
He nodded. "And I might add that I think I have never heard of anything more dreadful in my life."
"O la-la! You English are absurdly sentimental. What does the death of a man mean in power politics—even those of Sulungu? You feel, Philip, do you not think other men will die before I sit upon that throne? Last year when my cousin, Bona Thalan, was on his way to England for his annual visit, he stayed in Paris for a week, as is his custom, and I called upon him at his hotel for I wanted to see for myself what sort of man he was."
"And what sort of man is he?" asked Horton bitterly.
The girl smiled that slow smile which had set so many men's blood pounding as she replied, "My sort of man."
"Is there any sort of personable man who is not your sort?" sneered Horton who was now seated at the foot of the day-bed on which she was lying.
"Salad!" hissed the little countess, slapping him savagely across the mouth.
For a long minute he stared at her, his eyes speculative; then he struck her left cheek with a resounding smack.
For a moment, Philip thought

Today's Pattern

MOTHER DAUGHTER SMOCKS
Patterns 4943-4944

Your little girl needs a smock to make her to match your own! Here are two smocks: Anne Adams Pattern 4943 will make you a roomy smock (see the fullness required by the front and back yokes) and it has two different collars to choose from, or a squared collarless neckline. It comes in two lengths with short or long sleeves and optional ric-rac trim. Pattern 4944 makes your little girl a smock of similar design, PLUS a pair of slacks! Make the slacks of contrasting fabric, if you like. Let the Sewing Instructor show you how to finish these quickly!

Pattern 4943 is available in sizes small (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Small size takes 4 1/2 yards, 35 inch fabric. Pattern 4944 is available in children's sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12. Size 6 smock, takes 4 yards 35 inch fabric.
Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in stamps for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER. Do you want the full? Too short? Too plump? Too slim? If you are particularly proportioned in any way, let the ANNE ADAMS PATTERN GIRL take the guess-work out of choosing. Adjust this "basic" pattern tissue pattern to your measurements; then cut it out in muslin and fit it exactly for a permanent record. Pin your dress patterns to it, make the necessary changes, and the finished frock will fit with perfection. Designed in sizes 12 to 20, 30 to 50. Size 16 requires 5 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric. in his bed and said, "Why? Well, because... well, because we know the Normans all right."
"Why?" said Meredith again, this time most irritably. "I can see your point of view, John," she said quietly. "Norma is just a possible suspect to you, but we know her."
"H'm," said Meredith rubbing his chin and sounding quite unconvinced. "What's her history?"
Angela turned to her husband and asked, "How did Norma come to us?"
The earl scratched his nose. "Let me see," he began. "Wasn't it Bridget who recommended her? Oh, no. Of course not."
"Norma was planted on you, George," said Yves, from the window, "by the Gramophone."
"Most informative," said John. "Will someone translate?"
It was from Angela that he learned Miss Halky's story. "It was a year ago," she said. "No, not quite a year, about eight or nine months, that the Gramophone came and told us. . . . I mean the old Duchess of Stream asked us if we had a job for a young friend of hers. It seems that poor Norma had been stranded in Paris."
"Paris!" exclaimed Meredith. Angela nodded rather ruefully. "You're thinking of a possible connection with the de Vassignacs?" She shook her head. "I think you can rule that out, John. Wait till you've seen Norma. You'll know there's nothing about her to have brought her within their orbit at all. She's . . ."
"Got no allure," put in Yves Blaydes-Steele.
Lady Lanthesier smiled. "I'm afraid that's true," she admitted. "At all events, she's the daughter of General Hailey who died suddenly, while Norma was at her art school in Paris, and left her without a cent. Her mother was already dead. Veronica Stream knew her father apparently and took the girl under her wing. Fortunately, the child had learnt shorthand and typing so as to ensure some sort of job for herself if her painting proved unsuccessful, and George took her on. That's really all she was at a convent in this country, and is painfully respectable."

"Well, so much for Miss Halky," said Meredith. "What about the servants?"
Again there was general hesitation and Angela said, "Well, Stokes may have known about it. I suppose he probably did, but Stokes is really one of the family and has been with us for years."
It was at that moment that Stokes knocked at the door to inform His Lordship that Inspector Rainbird was calling.

shadow of question as to the ultimate victory.

President Manuel Quezon announced he was leaving Manila on the advice of General MacArthur, would administer affairs of the civil government from the outside.

Meanwhile, a noon communique acknowledged increasing Japanese pressure on the southeastern front from Atimonan, 75 miles southeast of Manila, to Mauban, on the Lamon bay 20 miles above Atimonan.

Earlier it was reported the Japanese driving southward from Aparri, on the northern coast of Luzon, had reached Tuguegarao, 50 miles inland, and that it was planned to declare the summer capital of Baguio an unfortified and open city.

Observers said Baguio might already have been occupied by Japanese driving across the mountains from the Lingayen landing zone on the west coast.

At 8 a. m., the army spokesman declared "our line is still holding on both the north and south fronts, although Japanese pressure is continuing. No additional landings have been reported."

Employees of the federal government have increased by about half a million persons under the defense program.

FREE FRENCH TAKE OVER TWO ISLANDS

Anti-Axis Powers, however, Reluctant to Recognize Seizure

By Associated Press
ST. PIERRE, ST. PIERRE-ET-MIQUELON, Dec. 26.—Free French seamen went about the business of organizing this barren Atlantic outpost today as a little but loyal ally of Anti-Axis powers which seemed reluctant to accept its services. They were supported by 96 per cent of the voters from the cod-fishing population of about 3,500 on the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, 15 miles off Newfoundland.

Choose De Gaulle Rule
The voters chose Free French rule—as against that of Vichy—in a plebiscite yesterday, one day after Vice Admiral Emile Muselier, commander of the Free French naval forces, had steamed into St. Pierre with four corvettes to seize the islands for Gen. Charles De Gaulle's forces.

(The United States government was reliably reported to be endeavoring to restore the status quo of the islands in conformity with an agreement made recently with French authorities in Martinique to keep France's western Atlantic islands out of the war line-up. The purpose of the Martinique agreement was to keep the Vichy government from moving farther toward the Axis. The U. S. state department yesterday characterized the seizure as an arbitrary action contrary to the agreement of all parties concerned and certainly without the prior knowledge or consent in any sense of the United States' government.)

Aided Axis Forces
LONDON, Dec. 26.—The French national committee (Free French) charged today that it was "common knowledge" that the radio at St. Pierre, when it was under Vichy domination, "was broadcasting meteorological information useful to the enemy."

St. Pierre is the seat of administration of the French islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon off the southern coast of Newfoundland, which naval forces of the Free French have taken out of Vichy control.

The national committee issued a statement in explanation of the seizure of the islands, which the United States state department has condemned.

"Several months ago," it said, "the national committee was informed that the populations of the French islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, situated at the entrance to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, wished to join Free France at the side of the Allies to resume the struggle for liberation of the mother country and the triumph of liberty throughout the world."

"Furthermore, it was common knowledge that under the governor, who had received dictatorial powers from Vichy, the St. Pierre radio was broadcasting meteorological information useful to the enemy."

HOLD THREE BOYS IN THEFT OF CAR

Three youths, two from Alliance and one from Salem, who were arrested in the shop district early Christmas morning, admitted stealing a car owned by Herbert F. Kelley, Junior High school teacher, from Kelley's garage on N. Ellsworth ave. Tuesday night, when given hearings this morning in the mayor's court.

Each pleaded guilty to charges of auto theft and were held for grand jury action.

Two of the defendants, William Sherman Conley, 17, of 134 S. Seneca ave., Alliance, and William Shodgrass, 17, of 796 Newgarden st., Salem, were held under $500 bond.

The third member of the trio, Albert Button, 20, of R. D. 1, Alliance, who has served time in a reform school, was held under $1,000 bond.

Two other Alliance boys were expected to be taken into custody today for implication in crimes performed by the group here and in Alliance, Police Chief Ralph Stoffer indicated.

The trio was nabbed here Wednesday night by Patrolman Clifford Todd, who became suspicious of the boys' actions when he saw them near the Mullins plant. In them near the Mullins plant. In them near the Mullins plant.

Police also recovered the radio which was taken from Kelley's car after it was stolen. The car, itself, was abandoned on the Painter road where it was found early Wednesday. The license plates which the boys removed from the car were found in a creek near Alliance where, they said, they threw them.

Conley, one of the boys held, admitted breaking into the Gunesch grocery on Newgarden st. the night of Dec. 10 when a quantity of groceries, candy and tobacco was taken.

The boys also said they sold the spare tire and wheel from the teacher's car in Alliance.

HONGKONG YIELDS AFTER HARD FIGHT

Remnants of Garrison stack Arms; Japs Announce Surrender Terms

TOKYO, Dec. 26.—(Official Broadcast Recorded by AP)—The remnants of the British imperial garrison at Hongkong, estimated at 6,000 men, was reported to have been ordered to stack arms by noon today in conformity with yesterday's surrender to Japanese siege assault.

The disarming got swiftly under way at various points of the now occupied British crown colony following the British command's formal acceptance early this morning of demands presented by representatives of the Japanese army and navy.

The Japanese demands provided: 1. Stationing of a "certain number" of Japanese troops for maintenance of order.

2. British assumption of full responsibility for cessation of hostilities and prevention of "unlawful incidents."

3. That decisions on further details of the British surrender should be made later.

Meanwhile Seki Yano, Japanese consul general at Hongkong, together with 22 other Japanese nationals, including members of the consular staff, who had been interned by British authorities since the start of the Japanese-British conflict, have been freed.

Escorted by a British official, Japanese army and navy representatives found part of the consular staff at the consulate general and other Japanese, including Yano, living in a tent camp on Stanley Peninsula—all unharmed.

It was learned, meanwhile, that the final Japanese military action against Hongkong was at 5:50 p. m. (3:50 a. m. E.S.T.) on Thursday when Japanese bombers dumped their last load of bombs on the besieged British troops—Canadians, Britons and Indians.

The British surrender came at 5:50 p. m.

JAPANESE LAUNCH BIG U-BOAT DRIVE

Try to Accomplish What Germans Failed In 1918 Campaign

of the last conflict, and the world war experience of the Atlantic coast gives the Pacific coast some idea of what to expect.

During one six-month period in 1918, the Germans sent six huge cruiser type U-boats into American waters. They planted mines at the entrance to New York harbor, cut communications cables to Europe and South America, attacked coastal shipping with gunfire and torpedoes and, according to naval records, sank 170,000 tons of merchant or war craft.

Failed in Objectives
Imposing as this record sounds, the U-boats did not achieve their objective. The world war secretary of the navy, Josephus Daniels, set down the verdict in a book some years later.

"In their chief mission of preventing transportation to Europe, the U-boats failed utterly," he wrote. "The flow of troops and munitions to France and England was not for a moment interrupted. In fact, it was precisely in this period that it was increased and we transported to Europe over 300,000 soldiers a month."

LANSING, Mich.—Longer house trailer models each year are stretching the ingenuity of tourist park designers, according to L. N. Jones, chief of the parks division of the Michigan conservation department. Coupled with longer wheelbases on automobiles, the trailers make landscape designers' favorite short radius curves and sharp breaks in grade impractical.

Hong Kong was a desolate island and a notorious haunt for pirates before occupation by the British.

Rams Favored Over Missouri In New Orleans Bowl Classic

TIGERS ATTACK ON OFFENSE FROM "T"; ADAMS IS KEY MAN

Fordham Accents Passing, Laterals; Filipowicz Is Sparkplug

By JACK GUENTHER
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—If history is an accurate measuring stick, and in football it usually is, the impending meeting of Fordham and Missouri in the Sugar Bowl should provide most of the mighty passing, breakaway running and otherwise spectacular offensive maneuvering which will go to make up the far flung gridiron program on New Year's Day.

With no slight toward the three rival post-season engagements intended, it is obvious that if fans are looking for thrills and chills the big saucer of Tulane Stadium in New Orleans will be the place to find them. For there will play what may be the two most potentially dangerous offensive teams in all the land.

For instance, the Rams, who achieved a bowl bid after 10 years of trying, averaged 332 yards per game. The Tigers did even better with an average of 345. But even that doesn't tell the whole story, for more than 50 per cent of the 61 touchdowns scored by these teams were produced by plays which covered 30 yards or more.

Odds Favor Fordham
The current odds favor Fordham in the betting at 8-5 but these are expected to shorten, and well they may. For Fordham is not a strong team on defense, and the games which the Rams have won, they have taken by out-scoring their opponents rather than nursing slim leads. And the T formation, as used by Missouri, has proved plenty potent.

On the record, there is little to choose between these squads. Missouri has the edge on rushing and Fordham has a wide advantage on passing. The Tigers rate slightly higher on defense and, although there is no common basis for comparison, the figures are so close the game can be decided by a single break.

Offense—Fordham has scored 190 points in eight games, gained 2,554 yards—1,712 rushing and 842 passing—and piled up 115 first downs for averages of 22.5, 332 and 144. Missouri, meanwhile, scored 227 points, amassed 3,104 yards—2,771 rushing and only 339 passing—and made 122 first downs for breakdown figures of 25.2, 345 and 13.6. Against the only common opponent, New York University, Fordham scored 30 points, 416 yards and 23 first downs. Missouri scored 26 points, 289 yards and 15 first downs.

Missouri Defense Tiger defense here on points, giving up only 37 in nine games for a 4.1 average, while the Rams were pierced for 67 in eight for an 8.4 average. Complete Missouri defense figures are not available but Fordham gave up 1,261 yards for a 157 average and 50 first downs for a 6.2 average. N. Y. U. scored nine points, 228 yards and six first downs against Fordham and no points, 169 yards and 10 first downs against the Tigers.

Manpower—Missouri has the probable stronger line and Fordham the more versatile and deeper backfield. The Tigers have 16 lettermen on a squad of 36 and the Rams have 15 lettermen on a squad of 44. Red Wade is the only prominent sophomore on the Missouri team while Fordham has used six different first year men on various occasions.

Coaching—Jim Crowley of Fordham is a one-time Notre Dame star from Georgia Tech as an assistant and head coach at Michigan State before coming to Fordham and running up his all-time record to 94 victories, 22 defeats and 10 ties. Don Faurot went to Missouri in 1935 after an obscure beginning and has won 40 games while losing 19 and tying seven. His team played in the Orange Bowl in 1940.

Fordham Uses Laterals
Systems—Fordham uses a modified Notre Dame system of attack, doped up with lateral pass plays and accenting passing this year. Steve Filipowicz, the fullback, is the triple threat man and the fullback position carries the brunt of the passing and kicking. The left half also runs while the quarter is a signal caller and blocker only. Faurot this year switched to the T formation and his team has grown steadily stronger since losing its opener to Ohio State. Harold Adams is the key man in the attack but usually hands the ball to Harry Lee who either fakes or passes passes to Bob Steuber. Missouri doesn't use the T on all plays and also works with or without the huddle.

Outstanding players—Fordham offers Steve Filipowicz and Jim Blumensack as its best backs, although Joe Andrejko follows them closely. Jim Lansing, an end, was widely nominated for All-America teams, is the best lineman. Missouri's Darold Jenkins was selected as the United Press All-America center while Wade Steuber and Lee are three outstanding running backs.

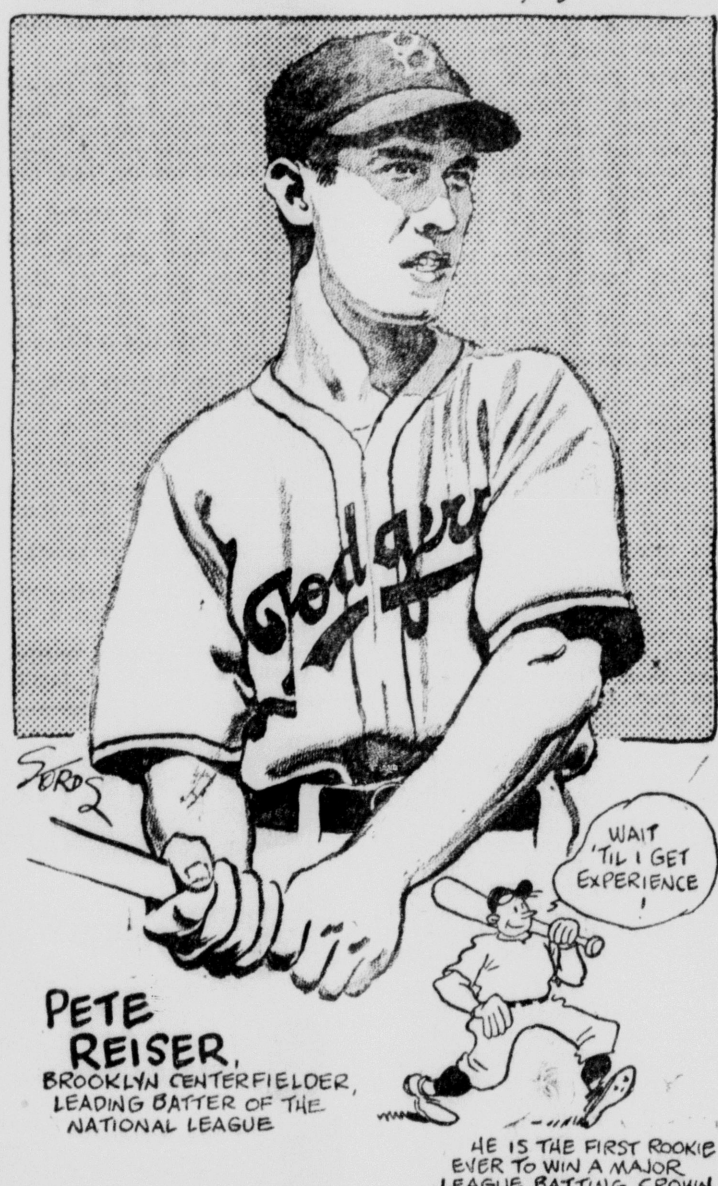

Fight Results

Philadelphia—Cleve Bailey, 1961, Vineland, N. J., outpointed Tony Cisco, 169, Norristown, Pa. (10); Frankie Donato, 121, Philadelphia, and Johnny Forte, 128, Philadelphia, drew (8).

Collapse Of Reds, Indians In 1941 Season Highlights Buckeye Sports Campaign

BY FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS—Ohio's sports campaign of 1941—despite the multitude of stirring performances turned in by Buckeye athletes—goes into the record books as a "just think what might have been" year.

The last 12 months found the Cincinnati Reds short of their world baseball title; the Cleveland Indians collapsing worse than ever; Byron Nelson of Toledo surrendering his P. G. A. title to Vic Ghezzi on the 39th hole; Ohio University bowing to Long Island in the finals of the National title basketball race; and Mrs. Olga Weil of Cincinnati losing to Patty Berg in the finals of the women's Western golf tourney.

Just a bit more "oomph" on the part of the Ohioans and the Buckeye realm would have had plenty to crow about, but as it was the boys and girls turned in a creditable year.

Brown Successful at O. S. U.

Probably the outstanding sports development was the appointment of Paul E. Brown of Massillon as Ohio State University's football coach, and his fate of leading a not-too-impressive team to a second place tie in the Western conference. The Bucks, after losing four in 1940, were beaten only by Northwestern this year—and they might have capped that one had Fullback Jack Garg been able to play.

On the golfing front the big feature was the grand slam scored by the Stranahan family of Toledo in the Ohio Golf association's three tournaments, and the wing of the state's golfing titles from Dayton to Toledo.

Young Frank Stranahan, aged 19, won the state amateur, the state junior and the trans-Mississippi titles, while his dad, R. A. Stranahan, better known as "Ohio's Mr. Golf," capped the state seniors feature. Nelson won the Ohio Open for the second straight year; Miss Nema Cople, former state public links queen from Toledo, annexed the state women's crown; and Marshall Carlson of Toledo retained his Ohio Conference championship.

Columbus Cops Series

While Cincinnati was surrendering its major league laurels, Columbus brought a world series victory to the Buckeye state by beating Montreal in the junior classic, four games to two. The victory cost

RIDDLE BECOMES CAGE MENTOR TO PASS AWAY TIME

'Pitcher of Year' Proclaims It's Snap Compared To Pitching

COLUMBUS, Ga., Dec. 26.—The coach's bench of a semi-pro basketball team can get mighty hot, but Elmer Riddle, the Cincinnati Reds' pitcher-of-the-year, thinks it's still a snap compared to major league hurling.

Riddle, a red-hot basketball enthusiast and still quite some shakes as a player, is trying his hand at managing and coaching a Columbus Bottling company (Neh) team. So far the boys have played 500 ball—quite a way behind Riddle's individual performance in the pitcher's box last summer when he won 19 and lost four—but Riddle thinks they'll pick up.

"Coaching basketball is a snap compared to pitching in the big leagues," he says. "My boys are veterans and know the fine points of the game. My main worry is substitutions at the strategic time. In baseball you have to figure out the weakness of each batter. In basketball you usually can stop a team by bottling up one or two players."

Riddle has been associated with the team four years, and played as a forward for three seasons. Last year, fearing injury to an arm which probably is worth $250,000, he quit active participation, but he couldn't stay away from the hardwood. This season he's on the bench, as the one-man board of strategy.

Clevelanders Win Kumquat Bowl, 21-6

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 26.—The Cleveland All-Stars, outstanding players from 40-odd high schools, packed too much heat and power for St. Petersburg High's Green Devils and rolled to a 21-6 victory before a crowd of 6,500 in the fifth annual Kumquat Bowl game here yesterday.

Rolling down the field on two drives that were sparked by Tony Adamle of Collinwood and Tom Cunningham of Rocky River and cashing in on a pass interception, the Clevelanders scored in each of the first three periods.

However, they were unable to bottle up St. Petersburg's all-southern halfback, Tommy Hudson. Hudson led a Green Devil march of 73 yards in the final period and scored his team's only points on a 12-yard end run on which not a hand was laid on him though he almost quit running on the 5-yard line, which he mistook for the goal.

Adamle Leads Surge
The first Cleveland touchdown followed a poor kick by St. Petersburg that gave the Ohioans the ball on the Green Devil 47, from where Adamle and Cunningham alternated on off-tackle thrusts to hit pay dirt.

Adamle went over from the 1-yard stripe and Cunningham plunged for the extra point.

Late in the second period, the Green Devils opened up with passes. One of the Hudson's heaves was intercepted by Bill Schmitt, Cleveland Heights back, who raced 20 yards unimpeded for the second touchdown. Clayton Crook of West Tech converged for the extra point.

Jim Haddad, Cleveland East end, recovered Hudson's fumble of a punt on the St. Petersburg 39 in the first few minutes of the third period and the Ohioans marched straight down the field for a touchdown. Adamle scored on a 12-yard smash off tackle and Schmitt converted from placement.

The game was played in 30-degree weather.

It was Ohio's third victory in five Kumquat Bowl games.

WAS SO DISCOURAGED SHE HARDLY KNEW WHICH WAY TO TURN

TONJON has relieved her of misery in her back, arms and legs so that she is able to do her work. Kidneys weren't normal but now her troubles have practically cleared up.

"For about 2 years I have been burdened with various ailments that have caused me untold agony," said Mrs. Laura Johnson, R. F. No. 1, Wellsboro, Ohio, near East Liverpool, Ohio.

"I have been troubled with misery in my back, arms and legs so intensely that for days I wouldn't be able to do my work. My kidneys demanded I get up 6 or 7 times a night for relief and many nights I wouldn't get any sleep at all because of this condition. A pain in the back of my neck was a source of much discomfort and my muscles and joints would be stiff and sore."

"Constipation annoyed me and I had to use harsh laxatives. I became so nervous, worried and run-down that I was so discouraged I hardly knew which way to turn. Dizzy spells, a bad taste in my mouth, and a sour, gassy stomach prevented my eating what I wanted and needed."

United States Members of Anglo-American War Council

SPORT CHATTER

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Say, what sport season is this, anyway? We've become toughened to football running up to New Year's day and basketball reaching a mid-season peak for the holidays, but now we find tennis growing in while the ski meisters are complaining about the lack of snow. Folks hereabouts have been uncertain about the drawing power of Bobby Riggs and Frank Kovacs, who make their pro tennis debut at the Garden tonight, but the way Alexis Thompson has worked things out the tour may make money. Lex brought up more than $8,000 worth of seats for tomorrow's show, including all the $7.70 ducats, to sell to his friends.

Today's Guest Star
Gene Korzelius, Buffalo Evening News. Pittsburgh field club has an escalator taking the players from the 17th green to the 18th tee. More than one club should provide such a lift from the 19th hole to the locker room."

Postman's Paragraph
G. H. Miller of Salina, Kans., wants to know what does a ball player have to do to be the most valuable in the American league besides being the first player since Rogers Hornsby to bat over 400, take most of the other important batting marks and break up the Allstar game. He asks the same question in connection with the most outstanding athlete of 1941. . . . The guys who compared candidates DiMaggio and Williams in person picked Joe on the basis of those things that don't show in the figures. . . . Don't forget that Joe's batting streak was the spark that set off the Yanks' world championship conflagration.

is worried about where he'll find competition after the big league and big minor clubs finish spring training. He expects to have a team equal to the best in any AA league—and no wonder, since he's counting on Bob Feller to head his pitching staff. . . . Report says Al (Bummy) Davis, the former welterweight title contender, has been transferred to the Philippines.

OREGON STATERS ARE CONFIDENT; RESUME DRILLS

Duke 2-1 Favorite As Day Of Rose Bowl Battle Approaches

DURHAM, N. C., Dec. 26.—A rose confidence prevailed at the two Rose Bowl football camps today as Duke and Oregon State players tucked away their Christmas presents and resumed drills for the transplanted classic to be played here before 55,000 fans on New Year's Day.

Although twice beaten Oregon State is on the short end of a 2-to-1 odds in Durham, both Coach Lon Stiner and Captain Martin Chaves refuse to accept the underdog role. "I don't know anything about Duke's team, but I do know something about my boys," said Stiner. "Nobody managed to score more than two touchdowns against us in 1941 and we don't intend to start the new year on the wrong foot. Chaves was even more outspoken. "We feel," he said, "that a lot of people around here are going to be mighty surprised. Ever since we beat North Carolina last Wednesday, people have been telling us about how tough Duke is supposed to be."

"Allright—so they talk. But what are we supposed to be? Pushovers? Duke has a fine team. So have we. We figure Duke is going to have play eleven men at a time—not supermen. We'll have eleven guys in there too."

PHOENIX, Ariz.—The Department of Agriculture reported the Arizona orange crop only about 65 per cent of normal this year compared with 71 per cent of normal last fall and similar conditions prevailed in the grapefruit crop.

PRC TENNIS TOUR TO BEGIN TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Four strictly professional tennis players and an amateur promoter will set out tonight to prospect for gold in their tennis hills.

There is every indication that the four players—Don Budge, Fred Perry, Bobby Riggs and Frank Kovacs—will make out all right. Alexis Thompson, wealthy young New York sportsman, has promised them $100,000 for the tour. Thompson may come out with a profit, too. He has arranged a schedule on which it seems that it will be hard to lose much.

The tour probably is the nearest thing to the desired open championship that yet has been devised. Riggs and Kovacs were ranked 1-2 in amateur tennis for 1941 and Budge and Perry are the top pros. For tonight's opener at Madison Square Garden Budge will oppose Kovacs, the "Magnificent Screwball" whose antics on and off the courts have provided excellent publicity material for the tour. Riggs and Perry clash in the second singles match and the newcomer play the veterans in doubles.

JAP YOUTHS WALK INTO U. S. BULLETS

Boys, 15 to 18, Die on Luzon As Though Accepting The Inevitable

(Editor's note: Clark Lee, Associated Press staff reporter with wide experience in Asia, tells here what he saw during a trip to the Lingayen front in the Philippines. Lee was born in Oakland, Calif. He entered the AP in 1929 and has worked in New York, Newark, Mexico City, Honolulu and all over the Orient.)

By CLARK LEE

MANTILA, Dec. 26. — Masses of Japanese troops—some of them boys of 15 to 18 years old and poorly equipped with 25 caliber guns—are dying in attacks on the Lingayen front as if simply accepting the inevitable.

An American officer who commanded one of the beach defenses told me there was "no hysterical exaltation" in the charge on the shore last Monday, when the major invasion began.

"They didn't charge, but crouched forward just a little bit," lifting their knees high in a sort of imitation goose step," he said.

"They kept coming forward in pairs, one directly behind the other. They were coming on to die and many of them did."

"Many times one of our heavy machine-gun or rifle bullets killed two men at once."

"When hit, they just threw up their hands and fell backwards as if accepting an inevitable fate."

"Some were poor quality khaki; others were in half uniforms and half civilian clothing."

The invaders carried 25 caliber rifles and about one-fourth of them had 25 caliber sub-machine guns." The commander of the landing section said the 25 caliber bullet would not kill a man unless it struck a vital spot.

I spent four days in and around the fighting front, including a two-day hike over mountain trails after the Japanese cut the main road southward, forcing me to abandon and burn my automobile.

Part of the Japanese forces turned southward, and by Wednesday night, when I left the foremost area, they had reached Pozorrubio and Binalonan on the main highway to Manila.

mission. Three Italian tanks and 11 armored cars and 11 German light tanks and an unspecified number of Axis planes and war material were found abandoned in the Barca area.

In London authoritative circles said the capture of the North African empire, means that an Axis threat to Egypt has been removed and large British forces eventually will be freed for the mopping-up of Libya.

The chief supply port east of Tripoli, the provincial capital, Bengasi, fell to the British Dec. 24. While some units took over the ruined port, other air and land forces continued pursuing Axis troops to the west.

In Cairo, military observers estimated that most of the tanks of German General Erwin Rommel's Libyan force had been wiped out.

Theatre Attractions

Laraine Day, Shirley Temple and Herbert Marshall in a scene from "Kathleen", showing at the State tonight and Saturday.

"Kathleen", comedy-romance at the State Thursday through Saturday, brings Shirley Temple, child star, back to the screen after more than a year's retirement, with Herbert Marshall, Laraine Day, Gail Patrick and Felix Bressart.

Now 12 years old, and a veteran actress, star of more hits than many an adult actress can boast, the chestnut-haired Miss Temple essays straight acting parts in this film. She plays the role of a lonely child, whose widower father is too engrossed in business and his personal life to notice her until she registers a protest against his choice for a stepmother. So she introduces her choice.

Marshall as the father, Miss Day as a child psychologist who becomes the little girl's fast friend, and Miss Patrick as the calculating candidate for the stepmother have principal roles. Felix Bressart stands out as a gentle "swap shop" owner who is the child's only confidante.

At the Grand tonight and Saturday is "The Son of Davy Crockett", a western action drama featuring Bill Elliott, Iris Meredith and Dub Taylor.

Auto Collisions Reported

Cesna Mackintosh of 142 S. Union ave. told police that an unidentified car struck his parked machine on S. Ellsworth ave. Christmas eve, knocking it into another parked car owned by Glenn Whitehill of 552 Woodland ave.

The license number of the "hit-skip" was turned over to police.

The side of a parked automobile owned by Ralph W. Crawford of R. D. 4, Salem, was damaged when sideswiped, presumably by the same machine.

Cars operated by Robert McCulloch of 344 Highland ave. and Joseph Albright of 279 N. Roosevelt ave. were involved in a collision at the intersection of E. State st. and Union ave. at 9:10 p. m. yesterday, police said.

HAWAII WOUNDED RETURNED TO U. S.

Tales of Heroism Related As Convoy Arrives In San Francisco

(By Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—Hundreds of evacuees and wounded, convoyed safely through waters infested with Japanese submarines, today related acts of heroism and praised the morale in embattled Hawaii.

Planes circled overhead as the passenger vessels, wearing a dark blue war paint, slipped quietly through the golden gate yesterday. Lifebelts were worn during the trip by all passengers—even by the many children while they played games—and the ships were backed out completely at night.

They zigzagged constantly because Japanese submarines have been preying on shipping off the California coast.

Stirring scenes took place at entrances to piers. No public announcement was made of the convoy's arrival, but it was seen moving through the Golden Gate. There was a rush toward the waterfront.

Soldiers and sailors carrying rifles and pistols had blocked off an area extending three blocks from the docks.

Ambulances hurried to the waterfront and removed the navy and army wounded. The city sent four ambulances to care for the civilian injured.

A wounded sailor told of the heroism of his skipper who ordered some of his idle men to throw potatoes at the Japanese raiders.

"Our skipper was a little fellow," the sailor said. "But he certainly was full of fight."

"We had only a three-inch gun where we were, but he wouldn't let anybody else fire it. He peppered away at the Japs as they came over."

"All of a sudden a bomb hit nearby and blew our skipper into the water. Our executive (officer) gave the order to abandon ship."

The sailors started down and just then the skipper's head bobbed up from the water. They told him they were abandoning ship.

"The hell you are!" he shouted.

"Get back to your stations!"

Then he ordered a messenger to get a big sack of potatoes.

"I mean potatoes," the skipper cried to the surprised messenger.

"I got to keep the men occupied at a time like this. Let 'em throw potatoes at the Japs!"

One Clip Too Much

KANSAS CITY—Charles Rothel, 23-year-old policeman boxer, can take it—up to a certain point. Monday he was knocked groggy in the second round of an amateur bout and the fight was stopped.

Yesterday a rear view mirror on the side of a street car clipped him on the head while he was directing traffic.

On the orders of a physician, six foot, eight inch Charlie spent Christmas day in bed.

City Faces "Blackout"

CINCINNATI, Dec. 26.—Circleville's street lights will be blacked out Monday unless the city finds money to pay its electric bill. Mayor William B. Cadiz, reporting that the city owes the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. $1,500, asked the utility to discontinue service. The 10 traffic signal lights will continue operating.

Hit After Leaving Church

Mrs. Elizabeth Crea, wife of Rocco Crea, suffered fractures of both legs and a head injury when struck by a car on Center st. in Wellsville at 1:30 a. m. Thursday while returning from a Christmas mass.

Albert Barth of Wellsville, operator of the car, was taken into technical custody. Mr. and Mrs. Crea were attempting to cross the street at the time. The husband was not hit.

Atty. Pitts of the Mullins Mfg. Corp., was injured at 6:15 p. m. Wednesday when his car failed to negotiate a curve on Route 62 just north of here, and the machine struck the power pole and then a tree. The driver was found lying alongside the demolished machine.

He is reported suffering from a brain injury. He suffered a severe head laceration in the crash and lost a number of teeth.

A portfolio which Pitts was carrying at the time was reported missing from the accident scene and Mullins plant officials urged that persons who found the bag and business papers return them to the factory.

The lawyer, who has been associated with Manchester, Ford, Bennett & Powers in Youngstown, for the last several months has been working at the Mullins office there, handling defense contract data and other technical duties. The portfolio is believed to have been stolen by someone at the scene while highway patrolmen were checking the wreckage.

Canton Man's Condition Critical
A similar accident on the Ellsworth road, three miles north of Salem at 4:15 a. m. yesterday, brought head injuries and shock to Herbert L. Hyden, 21, of Canton, whose machine also went out of control on a curve and overturned. Like Pitts, his condition is described by hospital attendants as critical.

Other holiday mishaps were investigated by members of the Salem state highway patrol barracks.

Edward W. Mellinger, 39, of Leetonia, suffered from shock and bruises when a truck-trailer struck his car and knocked it half way through a guard rail on the Millville hill, just east of Salem, at 9:40 a. m. Wednesday. The truck driver, William J. Bressnahan, 26, of Detroit, lost control of the vehicle when the trailer started to skid.

An accident at the same location a short time before involved a car driven by Harold Jackson, 19, of Atwater, which upset. Jackson was uninjured.

Ralph Chell, 29, of Cleveland, lost control of his automobile on the Lisbon road at 11:15 p. m. Wednesday and the machine overturned. Chell and a passenger in his car, Charles Harransky, 22, of Alexandria, Pa., suffered lacerations and bruises. They received first aid treatment at City hospital.

Five persons were injured when autos driven by Charles C. Kelley, 23, of Pittsburgh, and Joseph G. Matto, 25, of Toronto, crashed head-on on Route 7, a half mile south of Rogers, at 7:40 p. m. Wednesday, the patrol reported.

Kelley, who received a lacerated knee, was charged with reckless driving and was fined $10 and costs in the mayor's court at Columbiana.

Matto and a brother, Paul, received face lacerations. Frank Staub of Pittsburgh, and Thomas Lacey of Homestead, Pa., riding with Kelley, also suffered lacerations.

Clarence E. Simmons, 51, of Alliquippa, Pa., was fined $10 and costs on a charge of reckless driving after his automobile and another driven by Albert Poor, Jr., 27, of Everett, Pa., collided on Route 14, just east of the junction of Route 7, at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday. Automobiles operated by Fred Cozza, 30, of R. D. 1, Leetonia, and Osborne Farmer, 29, of South Bend, Ind., were involved in a collision on Route 14, a mile east of Salem, shortly before 3 a. m. today. Cozza, who received a cut nose, was cited to appear on a charge of reckless driving.

Mrs. Klo Farmer, 58, of R. D. 1, Leetonia, a passenger in the other machine, was treated at City hospital for face lacerations.

Albert Phillips of Beaver Falls, Pa., was treated at the hospital for minor cuts and bruises at 8:45 a. m. yesterday. Accident details not known.

western bank of the Okta river, which Hitler had personally ordered to be held.

Two-Day Siege
"The Germans had strongly fortified the place and exerted every effort to stop our defenses," Lavatia said, adding that Russian soldiers captured the town after five days of fierce street-fighting.

A bulletin from Hitler's headquarters gave rare praise to Italian and Slovak troops for helping the Germans counter Red army attacks on the Donets river front in the Ukraine.

In the Central (Moscow) semi-hard defensive fighting continued the German communiqué reported that the Fuehrer again spent Christmas among his soldiers and described it as a "serious" and "more waiting Christmas" than before.
